

Vera Walters

Vera Walters recently retired from Central Arizona College, has been teaching people about birds for over 25 years.

Vera has worked for the National Park Service, U S Forest Service and various public and private educational institutions. Vera is an avid bird watcher and still teaches privately.

