

Climates, Microclimates and Inner Climates – The Niches in Nature

The amazing aspect of Arizona is its diversity. An amazing number of the world Biomes exist here. Your garden can change in a little as 3 feet. So let's get into some Permaculture Sector work.

Don will speak in general about the climate factors facing most gardens then move to the microclimates we create (with the help of structures and plants). He will finish with the climate we artificially make for our zone 0 (home) comfort.
