

Introduction To Edible Landscaping In The Desert! There Is An Edible For That!

Edible Landscaping is a blending of a garden which is both beautiful and functional. Whether you like a free spirit garden or something more formal there is an edible plant for form, fragrance, texture, and color - and you get to eat it too. Catherine, The Herb Lady, a valley Edible Landscaping Expert will explain what is needed to achieve the garden of your dreams in this 2 hour lecture. She will explain what snowsuits in July and Swimsuits in December means. Why you do not need to shade plants in the summer, and what kind of watering works best and what to plant now and later.

Two Dates Available: October 19th and November 2nd, 10 a.m. to Noon
